COLLECTORS.

"The pursuit and study of the Fine Arts in their various branches, have been a source of constant enjoyment to me in the intervals of business, and often of great solace and relief at trying periods, and this alone would be a pleasurable indemnification for my investments, should they fail to be commercially reproductive. It is said that Collectors usually have long lives, and I cannot help feeling that the cheerful exercise of the mind and body which belongs to the pursuit, warrants the assertion; and I hope in due time to say, probatum est."

A NEW FEATURE.

A customer asks "What percentage of its cost can I get for my collection?" We have repeatedly called the attention of collectors to the fact that stamps and coins are as good an investment as any other commodity which may be purchased for any purpose other than trading; and if this statement is doubted by anyone they have only to take their watch, diamonds, or any other portable property which they may be possessed of, and endeavor to make a sale, when they will learn for themselves that it is impossible to realize half the money paid for any given article, even if perfectly new. But we think we hear some one remark that he cannot sell his collection for half the price it cost him. That depends on several circumstances. If the collection consists of low-priced stamps or coins he certainly cannot, because the price paid for these articles, if under 25 cents each, is simply for the time taken to select, arrange, and dispose of the goods, for it must be remembered that it takes as long to sell a 5 cent as a $5 article in this line. People do not go to a store and call for a certain coin or stamp the same as they would for a pound of tea, consequently the difference over cost price has to be much larger than in other lines, but still not half as much as many people imagine. Again, he may have valuable pieces, but purchased them at very high prices, in which case we could not guarantee him half cost, but if the collection were sold at auction it would doubtless realize a very fair percentage of the original outlay. It will be seen by their advertisement that Messrs. Scott & Co. have added a new attraction to their well-known house by introducing a novel feature in their dealings with collectors. This consists of giving a printed guarantee of genuineness with every article sold, together with a bond duly signed and sealed, agreeing to repurchase on demand any coin or stamp sold at half the price paid. This, we are informed, is a lower price than they would like to fix, but it must be borne in mind that a very large sum of money will have to be reserved to meet all possible demands, and if any piece should be discovered in quantities and the price go down they would immediately have quantities returned, whereas when pieces appreciate in value they would never be turned in at a lower rate than they would command in the market. We certainly look upon this as a great boon to collectors, for they can have all the pleasure of collecting with a certainty of being able to realize any given sum at a moment's notice.

IMPORTANT TO COLLECTORS.

Messrs. SCOTT & COMPANY beg to inform collectors that on and after this date they will give a printed guarantee of genuineness with every coin or stamp sold by them at a price of two dollars ($2) and upwards, together with a bond duly signed and sealed pledging themselves to repurchase, on demand, the said coin or stamp at a reduction of fifty per cent. These certificates will be a first lien upon the property of the firm.

October 1, 1879.

(Signed,)

SCOTT & COMPANY.

NOTE.—Stamps will be numbered on the reverse to correspond with the certificate while coins will be stamped on the edge. Collectors who object to this will please be careful to notify us.

DOUBTFUL STAMPS.

We receive a large number of stamps by every mail accompanied by a request to look over them and inform the writers if they are genuine. These requests we have uniformly complied with, but we regret to state that the counterfeiters have been so actively engaged lately, and their wares so much better executed than formerly, that we find the tax on our time too great more especially as the stamps in question are usually bought from irresponsible persons at nominal prices, the buyers themselves having no faith in the people with whom they trade, consequently in future we must decline to receive stamps for examination unaccompanied by a fee of twenty-five cents for every stamp when a printed report of the genuineness or falsity of the stamp will be returned with it.

Collectors will bear in mind that all goods sold by us (high or low priced), are guaranteed strictly genuine and authentic, and while there are two or three other respectable and responsible firms in the business we are sorry to add that the trade is notoriously full of dishonest persons who know nothing of the business and have neither reputation nor capital to lose.

News of the Quarter.

BULGARIA.—The set of postage-stamps just issued by the new principality of Bulgaria is decidedly the most interesting series of stamps which has appeared for many years. The design, as will be seen by the engraving, consists of a crowned lion rampant on colored disk in oval inscribed band, numerals of value in circles in the four corners, the design being printed in black, with colored ground on white paper. The colors and values are as follows :

5 centimes, yellow ; 10 centimes, green ; 25 centimes, puce ; 50 centimes, blue ; 1 franc, red.

ST. DOMINGO.—At last we have received specimens of the new issue of stamps for this island. In general design they are similar to the old series, but the drawing is much better, the minor details brought out, and the printing and paper infinitely superior to that heretofore employed. The values remain as before, but now two sets are in use, one being printed on tinted paper for interior postage ; both sets are perforated.

For Inland Postage.— $\frac{1}{2}$ real, violet on lilac ; 1 real, carmine on salmon.

For Foreign Correspondence.— $\frac{1}{2}$ real, violet, on white ; 1 real, carmine on white.

PORTUGAL.—Two values have had their color changed ; they are now : 10 reis, green ; 50 reis, blue.

AZORES AND MADEIRA.—Similar changes have been made in the stamps to those adopted on the mainland. We must accordingly find room in our albums for the following :

Adhesives, 10 reis, green ; 50 reis, blue.

Envelopes, 25 reis, blue ; 50 reis, carmine.

FRANCE.—Again we have been surprised by a change of color in the postals of this country. The color of the 25c. is now yellow, of the exact same tint as the 3c.

QUEENSLAND.—One value of the anticipated set is now before us ; it is probably the ugliest postage stamp that has been issued for years. In design it is similar to the shilling English, with plain corners ; but the execution is execrable—2 pence, blue.

ITALY.—The new series, bearing the portrait of King Humbert, is now before us. The design is boldly drawn, and the engraving fine ; but unfortunately the printing is not what it should be. We have to make the same complaint of half the stamps that have been issued lately.

CANADA will shortly issue the 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ and 15c. values of postals in small size, to correspond with the others of the series.

NATAL is rapidly taking the lead in the matter of surcharged stamps. The old sixpence is now printed in carmine and surcharged POSTAGE ONE PENNY in black. 1 penny, carmine and black.

BRITISH HONDURAS has added a new value to its series, the design being the same as the other values 4 pence, violet.

The last quarter has witnessed two important stamp-auctions, both under the management of our publishers. The first occupied three evenings in its disposal (August 11, 12, and 13), but owing to the heat of the season there were but few collectors represented, these were well repaid for their attendance by the bargains they secured, while the owner doubtless received more for it than he could have obtained by disposing of it by any other method. A small collection was sold on the 15th of September, which realized about $625, many of the stamps bringing high prices, but there were plenty of bargains to reward those who were looking for them.

Messrs. Scott have just issued the 37th edition of their justly celebrated stamp catalogue, which will doubtlessly find as ready a sale as its predecessors. All the new issues have been added and the prices regulated. The Revised List of all postage stamps is meeting with a larger sale than we at first predicted, conclusively showing that collectors will study their stamps when they are provided with the means of so doing. Any collector who has not already secured a copy, should read the advertisement of it on another page, and then send on the cash.

In numismatics there are too many auctions to record, but, notwithstanding their frequency, we notice that all rare dates of the American series are steadily rising in price. The celebrated Confederate half-dollar is now being re-struck, the number being limited to five hundred, while there are at least five thousand collectors, it will command a high premium over the subscription price within a month from the date of its issue.

FOR SALE.

PRICE $1000.

The Confederate Half Dollar.

SCOTT & COMPANY are pleased to be able to announce to collectors, that they have purchased the celebrated Confederate half dollar, together with the die from which it was struck. They are therefore enabled to make the following offers to Amateurs who may wish to possess a re-strike of this interesting Coin:—

500 Coins will be struck from the original die, in Silver of the weight and fineness of the original, after which the die will be destroyed. These 500 will be supplied to Numismatists at the rate of $2 00 each, and to insure a fair distribution, the following rules will be observed:

1. The Coins will be ready for distribution on the 15th of October, 1879.
2. Names of Collectors desiring to purchase, accompanied by the cash will be received up to the 10th of October.
3. No more than two of the Coins will be supplied to any one person.
4. If the number of subscriptions received exceed 500, the names will be written on slips and Five hundred names drawn to whom the Coins will immediately be sent; while the money will be returned to those remaining.
5. In the event of the die breaking before the requisite 500 Coins have been struck, we shall immediately stop subscriptions and send out the number coined in the order in which the names were received.
6. As we consider this Coin to be the most interesting one ever struck in America, and have no doubt of its value as an investment, we pledge ourselves to re-purchase all offered us within one year from date at $2.00 each or at any time during the year 1881 at $3.00 each, in 1882 at $3.25 or in 1883 at $3.50 each; but they will in all probability be selling at $5.00 each before this year has expired.

The original Coin, (one of four—the other three being lost) can be had for $1,000; a written guarantee of genuineness and surrender value accompanies the piece.

The die, damaged so as to prevent re-striking can be purchased for $50.

While offering this valuable Coin for sale, a short account of it will prove interesting to purchasers, our remarks will necessarily be brief as we prefer to introduce sworn documents in preference to our own speculation.

On the 4th day of February, 1861, a party of conspirators organized an armed rebellion to the government of the United States and having taken possession of the U. S. branch Mint located at New Orleans on the 28th day of February, 1861, ordered the superintendent, Mr. Wm. A. Elmore, to prepare dies for striking silver coins for use in those parts of the United States, which were in rebellion; the time being short and skilled labor scarce, he economized both by using for a Reverse, the die which had been heretofore employed in striking the Obverse of the U. S. half dollar of that year, making an entirely new Obverse die, which was engraved by A. H. M. Peterson—under the superintendence of Chief Coiner, B. F. Taylor, from these dies four (4) coins were struck which were disposed of as follows:

Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

Prof. Riddell, of the University of Louisiana.

Dr. E. Ames of New Orleans.

Dr. B. F. Taylor, Chief Coiner of New Orleans Mint.

} one to each.

All the parties connected with the mint, are now living in New Orleans; they have made affidavits to the facts, as has been stated, and are willing to verify them when desired. Thus it will be seen that the coin is genuine and fully authenticated beyond all doubt, and also it must be considered as one of the U. S. Series, for it was struck at the U. S. branch Mint by U. S. Officials with one of the regular U. S. dies, and from Government silver, the fact of the states being in rebellion, does not alter the facts of the case; for if we are to exclude this piece from the series, we must also strike out either the Siege pieces of Charles I or the coins of the Commonwealth from the English series; to say nothing of the vast array of Roman coins issued under similar circumstances; but we doubt if there is any Numismatist bigoted enough to affirm this, therefore, it must be placed at the head of the American series, being much rarer than the 1804 dollar of which at least eight are known, while this is unique. For historic interest there is only one other in the series which has any history attached to it; we refer to the "Franklin cent" which heralded the birth of a Nation: while the Confederate half dollar shows the attempted destruction of freedom on the American Continent, and its rarity will show to distant ages the futility of the attempt.

A REVISED LIST

OF ALL

Postage Stamps and Stamped Envelopes

This is the only work of the kind ever published in America, and in the short space of two months has become the standard of all English-speaking stamp collectors. It contains an accurate list of every postage stamp ever issued, minutely describing every variety of color, water mark and paper, together with all the minor details concerning the different dies of the same stamp. It is fully illustrated with about fifteen hundred engravings, and besides being the latest is the most accurate work of the kind ever printed. Numerous notes explain every doubtful point in Philately, and give many interesting details concerning the causes which led to the issue or suppression of noted stamps. Mr. Coster's valuable monograph on the United States locals is added entire, forming a work which no collector who has outgrown the boy period of pasting stamps in a copy book can afford to be without. It is not a price list or a dealer's advertisement in any sense of the word.

Large 8vo, 400 pages. - - Cloth, $2.50.

4 cents, magenta, dark blue.

NOTE.—These stamps were type set in the colony, for use temporarily, each one being authenticated by the postmaster's initials, and as a further precaution were not sold to the public, but affixed to the letters by the post-office clerks. They are among the rarest stamps known.

CRITIQUES.

"The work is profusely illustrated, and forms a valuable book of reference for postage stamp collectors."—The N. Y. Daily Graphic, June 26.

"Will be highly appreciated by philatelists the world over. It is the first complete catalogue of all stamps ever issued that has been made for collectors, and if it were a catalogue only, it would be of great value, but it is much more. The 400 broad pages contain the full history of every issue of every government, and a full description of every stamp, both government and private. Fifteen hundred engravings illustrate the text, and a complete index makes the information readily accessible."—The N. Y. World, June 21.

"The book is decidedly remarkable for the industry and patience displayed in the compilation of facts concerning postage stamps and stamped envelopes all over the world. To those who have paid no special attention to this curious study this catalogue will be a revelation, for though there are over one thousand five hundred fac-similes of stamps scattered over the 410 pages contained between its covers, they form only a tithe of the whole, for the catalogue describes several thousand varieties. Turning over the leaves of Mr. Scott's catalogue we are compelled to admire the system he has adopted, while realizing the time and study he must have devoted to his subject. The result is a manual that must be a great help to old collectors and indispensable to beginners. Clearly printed in large type and handsomely bound, the book will undoubtedly become a standard work of reference."—N. Y. Herald, June 30th, 1879.

THE COINAGES OF THE WORLD, ANCIENT AND MODERN.

This work is intended to give correct information on a subject of which no educated person can afford to be ignorant; and yet, till the publication of this volume, it has been impossible to obtain a general knowledge of the Coinages of the World without reading through dozens of heavy quartos, at great loss of time, and probably heavy expense.

By the aid of this book, any person can at once determine the nationality of any coin they may possess, and obtain much interesting information concerning the cause which led to its issue. It is well filled with beautifully executed representative coins of every people, age and country, and is the only comprehensive book on the subject ever published. The paper, press-work and binding are all of the very best. No library can be complete without it.

CRITIQUES.

The New York Times of December 27th, says:

"What every student of Coinages—not the mere collector of old coins—wants to know."

The New York World of November 27th, says:

"Welcome to all amateur and experienced numismatologists, to whom it will not only convey valuable information, but be useful as a work of reference."

The New York Evening Post of November 29th, says:

"A work of great interest to numismatists and collectors of coins. * * * The text, which is full, is illustrated by several hundred engravings of the principal coins of all ages and countries."

The New York Daily Graphic of December 23d, says:

"Shows a great deal of special study and painstaking research. It is a monograph full of interesting and curious information, and besides its ample learning, gives several hundred engravings of the principal coins. The various appendices to the volume add materially to its convenience and value for reference."

The American Journal of Numismatics of January 1st, says:

"This is an octavo volume of 306 pages, with a large number of wood-cuts of examples of both ancient and modern coins. It has several appendices, giving lists of the French sovereigns, explanations of the abbreviations on Roman coins, a list of Roman families who have issued coins, and other matters of interest. The text is sufficiently elaborate to give the general reader a good idea of the subject, and to excite his interest in the science of numismatics. From the brief examination we have been able to give it, we judge it to be one of the most valuable and compendious books on coins, especially for those collectors who have not the time or inclination to consult the ponderous quartos of the old writers, which has yet appeared."

The Coin Collector's Journal of January 1st, says:

"This is decidedly the most important work on numismatics that has appeared during the past year, and will doubtless be the means of starting many new collections, as it is written in popular style, and occupies a field distinctly its own. The first chapter introduces us to the first coin, and we are gradually led from the coins of the Greek Island of Aegina, to those of Athens, Corinth and Macedonia; from Miletus and Ephesus to Egypt and Judea; from Grecia Magna to Rome, and so down through the Byzantine Empire to Medieval and modern Europe, including also Asia, Africa and America (the coins of our country and England being very fully described), giving fine engravings of all the principal types of each, till every coin-issuing State or Colony has been noticed; in fact, it is more than a coin book, it is a short history of the world, and should be in every house."

New Publications,

MAY, 1879.

Messrs. SCOTT & COMPANY

Take great pleasure in announcing to the public that they have issued this day a work of great value to all interested in the history of their country, entitled

"Colonial Continental Confederate Currency,

" Their present market value.

" To which is added a complete Price List of

A. S. Fractional Currency.

Price - - - - 50 Cents.

It would be impossible at this date to claim that the list is perfect, but great care has been taken in its preparation, and every known variety of all the different kinds of paper money which have circulated in this country, has been tabulated according to date, so that any note is easily found, while the numerous full sized illustrations of Colonial and Continental money give material aid, likewise add interest to the book for the general reader. As an instance of its completeness we may call attention to the fact that 74 pieces of U. S. Fractional Currency are catalogued, while the highest number heretofore chronicled was only 48.

Besides being valuable as a check list of all uncurrent money issued by authority in this country, it is a comprehensive price list of Messrs. Scott & Company's large stock, the prices of which have been placed as low as the great and increasing demand for these interesting mementoes of our country's struggles for existence will admit of.

THE COIN COLLECTOR'S JOURNAL.

SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

A 16-PAGE MONTHLY. $1.00 PER YEAR. POST FREE.

In forwarding to our subscribers THE COIN COLLECTOR'S JOURNAL for January, 1878, at the commencement of the third volume, we would take the opportunity of thanking our patrons for past favors, and urge them to continued exertions to increase the circulation of the Journal. As it is the largest numismatic monthly published in the United States, and as it has now attained a more extensive circulation than any other paper devoted to the interests of coin collectors, we think it is for the interest and advantage of subscribers to do something to increase its influence.

We would remind our friends that by increasing the circulation of the Journal, the number of collectors will doubtless be much increased, and, as the number of coins is limited, the additional demand will greatly enhance the value of all collections.

The publishers have never expected to realize any profit from the subscription list; all that they hope for is to make the C. C. J. a self-sustaining means of communication for coin collectors, and therefore feel justified in looking to those benefited by it to do something to add to its usefulness in the future.

We give annexed a few reasons why every coin collector should become a subscriber:

BRAZIL.

FINLAND.

"These brilliant colored Flags faithfully represent the emblems of the different nations of the earth, and as such are a great acquisition to any Album, while the exceedingly low price (25 cents) at which they are published, places them within the reach of all."

"This Chart containing many Flags never before published, has been collected with great care, and can be relied upon as being strictly accurate, and by its aid the nationality of any ship may be easily determined, as it gives the Flag of the NATION instead of the gorgeous piece of bunting which simply belongs to one family, and is seldom, if ever, seen out of their country."

"These sheets possess three great advantages (to the Collector) over any other we are acquainted with, which consist in the facts that there is only one Flag to each country; more nations represented than have heretofore been given, and only Flags of those countries which issue postage stamps. These we consider of great importance to those who buy them to put in albums, as they can use them all instead of having to throw away half the purchase. The colors are very brilliant, and withal correct, and being printed on very thin paper, the book is not swelled to an inordinate thickness."

Beautifully and correctly printed in FIVE colors on fine heavy paper for framing, or thin paper for albums. Price only 25 cents.

In ordering please state which paper is required.

AN OLD COUNTRY AMUSEMEN T

If there are any of our readers who have never seen a miniature theatre performed by an intelligent boy they have missed one of the prettiest sights imaginable, and if they have any boy friends in whose welfare they are interested, they cannot do better than make him a present of one of these instructive toys. They are made in three sizes, each perfect in itself, but designed for different ages. In the first, designated miniature, the scenes are the size of the engraving given above; are printed on cards, beautifully colored, and full instructions for performing accompanying each one. The price is 10 cents, or with characters, etc., already cut out, with wooden stage, and packed in box, 50 cents. They can be obtained in the principal cities, or will be sent by express on receipt of price. The next size, or that known as Seltzs, is four times as large and the coloring much finer. These cost 50 cents, or with one of the patent folding wooden stages, two dollars and a half.

"Last year the writer was invited to attend a performance of the play of Cinderella, which was to be given by the son of our pastor. On entering the room we found that the sliding doors dividing the parlors had been drawn together leaving just sufficient space for the proscenium of the stage to stand in the front room, a table cloth being hung above and below, so that nothing could be seen on that side but the front of the stage; four rows of eight chairs were arranged in a semi-circle before it. These were occupied by the friends of the family, the smaller children being placed in the front seats, while the older ones remained at the back, where they could see over the others' heads. The gas being turned low in the room, the little oil foot-lights on the mimic stage burnt bright, and threw light on the curtain, which was raised at the sound of a little bell. The performance then commenced, our young friend behind the stage in the other room, and his sister, reading the speeches of the supposed performers, and pushing the characters on the stage with wires at the proper time. With what a burst of applause the entry of the Fairy Queen was received when she was lowered to the stage by a hair, and the young lady read the tale of the sufferings of poor Cinderella. Then the scene changed to the cave of the Kobolds, and the little card characters were seen in the performance of the work necessary for getting the fire ready to make the little glass slippers. This is finally accomplished while a chant is being sung back of stage; but we have not time to recount all of the changes of scene, from the kitchen to the ballroom, and from there to the castle court-yard, where the gorgeous equipage of Cinderella is suddenly transformed to the big pumpkin, and the poor frightened mice, rats and lizards. We left as pleased with our evening's entertainment as if we had attended a concert conducted by grown people."

The large or "mammoth" size is the same as the Seltzs, except in dimension, the scenes being 22 inches high by 28 inches long, while the stage, being so much larger, there is, of course, room for more complicated effects, such as real painted act drops and curtains that roll up from the bottom. The plays for these can be had for a dollar and a half, or the large wooden stage, with two curtains and play complete, for ten dollars.

Without counting the endless pleasure to be derived from acting or witnessing the performance of Seltz's American Boys' Theatre, the fitting up, mounting and performing these Plays will be found to give more pleasure and profit for the money than the same amount expended in any other way. All the marvelous scenic effects of the modern stage can be successfully imitated, by any boy of ordinary ability, on these miniature stages, by the exercise of a little study and patience. They have been proved of incalculable benefit in developing a boy's talent, in the various faculties called into play. His mechanical invention is brought out in constructing his theatre; his artistic genius is improved in carefully coloring the characters and scenery, and his elocution perfected in reading the speeches of the different actors.

Scott & Co. would caution the public against purchasing worthless imitations, as the Plays of SELTZ'S AMERICAN BOYS' THEATRE are the only miniature theatricals ever published, giving full directions for working, &c. Every piece of this admirable series is put together and tested by professionals before being issued to the public, insuring the correct working of every piece.
